

dear my penpal,

hi!! Since this is anonymous, I'll represent myself as peanut. i'm 19! i'm currently doing my diploma in information science at rembau campus!!

this is so fascinating bcs its my first time doing this. i hope we can be good friends. also hoping we can be more open about ourselves and make this our safeplace to tell each other anything we want.

hmm, since this is our first time talking to each other, it would be great if ure open to tell me whats your fav colour? mine is green. and whats your fav tv show?? could be from netflix hehe. i really like watching bojack horseman and orange is the new black. tell me any shows that u watch and i cant wait to see if we have anything in common!!

u must be wondering where i come from. i was born in KL but i was raised in Selangor. let me know if we are close to each other!!

feel free to tell me anything u want and ask me anything u curious about. i look forward to your reply. absolutely no pressure in your reply. we should make this fun for both of us.

well, thats it from me!! cant wait for your reply <33

bye!!,

peanut.

HELLO !

Hi, and nice to meet you, my unknown but surely lovely pen pal! It's actually my first time doing the pen pal thingy, so this really excites me! Let me introduce myself first.

You can simply call me Lucy, that's actually the name of my favourite band. My MBTI is ISTP. I don't really have any particular hobby, but I do enjoy listening to music. I'm not a sporty person, but I love adventure and trying new things.

As I'm writing this, it's raining heavily outside. Thank goodness I have a nice view from my room, so I get to enjoy the rain. This might be so sudden, but to end my first letter, I would like to share with you one of my playlist songs. I look forward to hearing from you soon!

DEAR LUCY,

Hi lucy, its nice to hear from you.

its me peanut again!! Well since you talked about MBTI, the last time i did the test was a year ago, mine is INFJ, but since uni started i think i went throught some character development hehe, i might be an extrovert now.

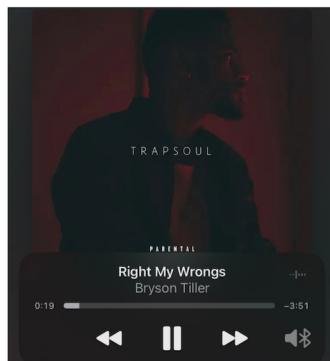

but its nice to know that you listen to the band lucy, because of u, i recently checked them out. theyre super nice. and the song u recommend is also really good!! To be honest, i am also not a sporty person. i think i am somewhere on the 'nerd' spectrum. but its nice to know that we have something in common!

music wise, im really into rnb and old school hiphop. mostly brent faiyaz, bryson tiller, sza and many more. not to forget i am surrounded by swifties! if we talking about bands, i do listen to bts and cas, evanescence and baby metal!

well as both of us are in the holiday phase, i hope you enjoy your break! tell me what tv show are u into? i am really into bojack horseman.

lastly, enjoy your break!! looking forward for your reply!! byebye here is my song recommendation, bryson tiller is so good!!

hugs,your dearest penpal,
peanut

Hyee Peanut!!

What a cute name!! Like the person itself i'm sure. Since last time a made a letter using canva, i couldnt write many things, so this time time i'm gonna try to write it casually.

Guess what? I am 19 too!! We could be a good friends!! But right now i'm pursuing my degree and i would rather let my course a secret hihi. You will know it soonnn.. one more funfact, before this, i took asasi uitm in dengkil hihi.

To answer your question, my fav color is grey and the reason is, bcs the color is not too dark and not too bright. But mostly all the time, i like wearing black hehe. I have a lot of fav tv show. I mostly like watching kdrama and anime. I dont really watch the americans one. But i think i will try to watch the two tv show that you mentioned in your letter!

In my case, i was born in perak, raised in selangor, but now living in n9. I moved to n9 in 2018, after my mother passed away.

So, since you're doing your dip, i bet you're part 3 student?? How is it? How rembau treats youu?? How about your classmateess?? I would like to hear your experienceee!!

And since right now is a mid sem break, how are you gonna spend your holiday?? As for me, i'm still not sure, but for sure is my holiday will be filled with assigment huhu..cryinggg. btw, me and my classmate are planning to have a day trip in kl! Its more like educational trips...? Anyway, i'll update that to you laterr!!

Okay i think thats it from me! Looking forward to hear your reply, peanut.

Byeeeeee!

Your lovely penpal, lucy :D

Hi lucy!!

Nice to hear from you again. First of all, sorry to hear that about your mom, sending condolences to you and the whole family. <3

It's good and refreshing to know that you are pursuing your degree. It's kind of crazy how life has something different to offer the both of us despite us both being 19. It must be so fun for you because u get to be mysterious rather than me just disclosing my course in my first letter hehe, but I do have some guesses about your study field. Asasi must be stressful but pursuing a degree at 19 is crazy. (in a good way). Hopefully, you are handling your time and studying well. 😊

I would say I am average in terms of my kdrama or anime knowledge. I do watch kdramas a bit but not anime, some of my friends recommended Blue Lock, but I am still stuck at ep 6 hehe. But yeah, I am heavy into American shows.

In fact, I am indeed a part 3 student. Rembau is surprisingly nice, maybe it's because I spent my life in the city, it's nice to have a quiet environment and live the kampung life. My classmates are fine, I do prefer to be by myself but surely, they are treating me well. Being a part 3 student is fine, I feel like the subjects are not as heavy as part 2.

I did nothing but drive throughout my mid-semester break. I recently got my licence, and my dad wanted me to get familiar with driving around the city, so it would be easier for me to drive around Rembau. Assignments-wise, I am not really stressed, I think I have everything in hand. As u mentioned KI trips. I have a guess that u might go to Bank Negara (?). Wild guess, I know right hehe. But anyway, hopefully u have fun with your classmates and tell me about it later!!

As for me, I am surprisingly very into twitter discourse, and I like learning new information and talking about it by myself. Not twitter discourse as in viral cases such as cerai or wtv, it is. I like to see things in depth and just analyze them by myself. Recently, I just been thinking about self-sabotaging in general and whether letting yourself be selfish is good in certain situations and how far it goes to be acceptable in current society. I also think about the thin line between finding comfort in misery and allowing yourself to be miserable on purpose and living your life like that.

But yeah, I do like having conversations about this with my friends and relating to it. Hopefully, u don't find them complicated.

That's all from me. Can't wait for your reply!!

Byee.

Peanut.

Hi peanut, its me againnn hihi,

I just find it really cute how we try to match each other's writing style. And i have just started watching the bojack horseman, and its kinda funny and entertaining. As for me, like i said before, i more into kdrama and anime. The most recent kdrama i've watched are daily dose of sunshine and moon in the day. I also like watching running man too hehe.

Btw, remember about the trip? Sadly, i cannot join it cause i'm sick :(nevertheless, i still enjoy my holiday, i guesss...? What about youuu, looking forward to hear about your holiday.

Today's letter quite short hm. But, cant wait to hear from youuuu!!

Your penpal,

Lucy :D

Hi lucy!!

Nice to hear from you again. Sorry to hear that u couldn't join your class trip 😊 . And u started watching Bojack Horseman omg!! Hope u enjoy them.

I also watch Running Man, used to tune in every weekend but uni stuff got in the way. Somin leaving was really sad. It is kind of sad to watch the members get old but at the same time they kind of raised me, that's really good to know that I was accompanied by good people and waves of laughter.

Heard u got sick 😢 . It is indeed the season I think, I also got a fever last week. Week 7 was hell. It was supposed to be my Week Without Wall, but I can't stay at home and had to go to campus every day. It was tiring, and I got my fever for 3 days and had to sit for a midsem test for 2 subjects back-to-back. It was hell. But everything is good now. Hopefully, it is for u too.

But ive been enjoying my week so far. I changed my phone bcs my old one don't work anymore, so that's fun. I have been fulfilling my cravings for ayam gepuk and ayam gunting, just as a rewards bcs I was sitting for an exam with fever. That's all from me.

How was your Week 7? Anything fun happened? Tell me!!

Your friend.

Peanut.

HI PEANUT!!

It's been a long week isn't? Along with your www? It's nice to hear from you!

Regarding the trip I mentioned, as I said, I couldn't make it, and unfortunately, your guess is wrong. We were actually planning to go to the national library and the KL library. So yeah, from there, I think you get a hint about my course, hihi.

As for Asasi life, I have to say that it is one of the best phases of my life. Dengkil had literally treated me so well to the point I got attached to it. Even until now, I still can't move on from Dengkil, and I just can't stop comparing everything to it. Btw, I took TESL in Dengkil, which is so different from the course that I'm taking right now.

So far in Rembau, it is not bad or good. My classmates are nice, and we get along with each other so well. Other than the packed class schedule and the loaded assignment, I think everything is going well, except that there is no grab (the app one) in here. It's a bit frustrating because it's hard to transport anywhere.

Talking about your liking, it's quite surprising for me because I have never thought deeper about anything like what you said. It's kind of fascinating, and I think I can learn a lot from you. As for me, when I think about 'what I like to do', I don't have a specific answer to it. I'm the type of person who, if I find something interesting, will get into it. And as for now, I'm not really into anything, as I still don't have anything that attracts me yet.

I think that's it for me this week!

BYEEE

your penpal, LUCY!!
